Smarter SMSF hires Tim Miller to new SMSF Technical & Education Manager role

Smarter SMSF, an industry leading SMSF education and document provider is proud to announce the appointment of Tim Miller to the newly created role of SMSF Technical & Education Manager, significantly expanding its CPD & education capabilities.

“This is a significant appointment for Smarter SMSF and its members,” said CEO and Co-founder of Smarter SMSF, Aaron Dunn. “Tim is well-known and highly respected for his views within the SMSF industry, and he adds great strength to our technical and education offering, which is a core focus of our business.”

Tim has held a number of key SMSF education and technical roles throughout his career, and this new position at Smarter SMSF provides a great opportunity to further focus on this path. “I am excited to be joining the team at Smarter SMSF. I believe Aaron has created a best of breed platform, delivering education and documents for SMSF professionals. We hold similar values and a great passion for the industry, so I see some fantastic opportunities ahead.”

For Aaron, this appointment comes at an exciting growth stage for the business. “We have a range of innovative projects lined up throughout 2023, so bringing Tim into the business at this time, gives us the resources we need to successfully execute on our ambitious strategy.”

In his new role, Tim will be joining Aaron for the upcoming SMSF day events - Smarter SMSF's showcase one-day technical events around Australia, to be held between 16 March to 5 April 2023. For more information, visit <https://smsfday.com.au>.

Both Tim and Aaron will be presenting at the upcoming SMSF Association National Conference in Melbourne, 22 - 24 February 2023.
